Background:

In individuals with advanced Type 2 diabetes, combination therapy is often unavoidable to maintain glycaemic control. International consensus has recognized the need for combination therapy for glucose lowering in patients with a high HbA1c level and recommend combination therapy when the HbA1c level is >7.5% in the initial assessment. Complimentary mechanism of action and good tolerance profile of DPP-4 and SGLT2 inhibitors make them attractive treatment options for combination therapy with any of the existing glucose-lowering agents. Combination therapy of Empagliflozin and Sitagliptin results in sustained, rapid, and satisfactory glucose control without severe adverse events.

Description:

- Empashield-S 10/100: Empagliflozin 10 mg + Sitagliptin 100 mg Tablets
- Empashield-S 25/100: Empagliflozin 25 mg + Sitagliptin 100 mg Tablets

Indication:

As an adjunct to diet and exercise to improve glycemic control in adults with Type 2 Diabetes Mellitus.

Mechanism Of Actions:

Empagliflozin inhibits SGLT2 and blocks the reabsorption of filtered glucose in kidney, increasing urinary glucose excretion and reduce blood glucose levels. This excretion allows for better glycemic control and potentially weight loss in patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus.

Sitagliptin selectively inhibits the action of DPP-4, the primary enzyme degrading the incretin hormones, allowing glucagon-like peptide-1 & glucose-dependent insulinotropic peptide to facilitate glucose regulation in response to a meal.

Dosage:

Empashield-S: One tablet a day orally or as prescribed by the doctor.
